ANNUAL NOW IN COURSE OF PUBLICATION

Mortimer Press Awarded Contract.

1,100 SUBSCRIBERS.

Book Ready Between February 15th and March 1st.

Notable progress was made on the Annual during the Christmas vacation, and "Old McGill" is expected to be in the hands of its subscribers between February 15th and March 1st. The contract was awarded to the Mortimer Press of Ottawa and Montreal just before the close of lectures, and a large number of the individual, class and group pictures are already in their hands. The Mortimer Press printed and engraved "Old McGill" for nine years, and gave the respective Annual Boards every satisfaction. The firm agreed to a contract which is agreeable to the Board, and asserts that the books will be out in good time.

The subscription campaign was brought to a successful close shortly before college ended with over 1100 names on the lists. The Board is issuing about 1,200 copies so there will be little chance to procure one if the name of the student in question is not already affixed.

Although numerous notices were inserted in the "Daily" regarding organization write-ups which were all to be handed in to H. C. Alward, the Biography Editor before December 22nd, many have not yet been submitted. It is absolutely essential that these be given in immediately or the Annual will be materially delayed. While the progress achieved so far has been considerable, it will be of no use whatever unless the student body co-operates to the fullest extent with the Board.

The Mortimer Press has made up a dummy Annual for the approval of the Board, which has a very pleasing and lasting cloth cover, between three hundred pages of the best and most servicable paper procurable. The book is substantial without being bulky, and with the copious material in course of preparation will be the most attractive Annual yet offered to the students of Mc-Gill. With the heavier and more lasting cover, and the one hundred additional pages, the 1924 Annual will be about twice as thick as the 1923 publication.

A number of special articles of a very high order have been received and others will shortly be completed. The

RHODES SCHOLAR IS MCGILL MAN

"Dave" Johnson will Study Law at Oxford Univ.

David M. Johnson, Arts '23, son of W. S. Johnson, mining engineer, of Lachine, has been named Rhodes Scholar for the province of Quebec for the year 1923. Johnson, who is a fourth year Arts student at McGill University, taking an honors course in mathematics and physics, intends to study law when he goes to Oxford next fall.

The Rhodes Scholarship Selection Committee for Quebec met recently for the purpose of making a final decision. The task of choosing the man most suitable for the honor is said to have been a difficult one, since there were fifteen applicants, many of them with excellent qualifications. Nine were students of McGill, it is understood.

Johnson, who is twenty years of age,
has enjoyed the popularity of his fellow students throughout his college career, and has won the esteem of the university staff. Professors who have been closely in touch with his work, claim he is a brilliant scholar, who has invariably taken a first-class standing in the subjects in which he has specialized.

"Dave" has also earned a favorable reputation in the field of athletics, particularly in track work, as a short distance runner. Since he entered Mc-Gill he has won five firsts, one second,
and one third, in track and field college championships, and in inter-collegiate contests eight firsts, one second and one third. He is this year's president of the McGill University track team, and last year was vice-president. He is also a member of the Students' Council, and has taken an active part in the Economics Club and the Literary and Debating Society. He is a graduate of the Lachine High School.

CONFERENCE AT TORONTO SUCCESSFUL

Over 700 S. C. M. Delegates Gathered

NOTABLE INFORMALITY

Many Countries and All Outstanding Religions Represented.

Over seven hundred delegates attended the conference in Toronto organized by the Student Christian Movement, which lasted from December 28th until January 2nd. The number included 107 from McGill, and representatives from England, the United States, Holland, Denmark, Czecho-Slovakia, Hungary, India and Germany. One of the pleasing features of the conference was that, even though the countries represented were widely different, an international spirit prevailed.

Dr. Herbert Gray, one of the members of the British Student Christian Movement delegation, stated that he had never attended a conference where there was such freedom of expression and informality. All the outstanding religions were represented, including Christianity, both Protestants and Roman Catholics, Mohammedanism, Confucism, Judaism and others.

Prominent among those who went to the conference from McGill were Dean Adams, Dr. Best, Dr. Gifford and Mr. J. G. MacKay, secretary of the McGill S.C.A. As was hoped for, all spheres of college life were represented, and this made the conferences far more beneficial.

The first National Christian Conference of Canadian students came to an end on Tuesday, with the final afternoon given up to general discussion.
In the words of D. Swaindross, of the University of Madras, India, "The conference was a revelation of the Canadian spirit of genuine interest in a new world and order, and it augurs well for the world in general, and in particular for the Empire and India." The chief features of Tuesday morning's programme was an address by the Hon. N. W. Rowell, who addressed the conference on the question of Canada's participation in Empire and world affairs. In discussing the problem he drew an analogy between the Canadian provinces before and after Confederation, and Canada as a member of the world of nations.

"We must be Canadians above all,"
he stated, "We must get away from narrow provincialism. Canada must rise above sectionalism, whether geographical, religious, social or occupational."

"We must," he stated, "be thinking in larger terms—that of the Empire and the outside world."
"We have talked about status," he declared, "but we cannot claim that position unless we accept all the responsibilities under the skirts of the Mother Country."

"But our responsibilities," he continued, "do not rest upon our status in the British Empire or in the League of Nations. That may regulate to some extent our international obligations, but they do not grow out of it.
They rise from our very existence as a nation, and any such obligations neglected or shirked must cause suffering. We cannot repudiate or deny them."

"What principles, then, should guide us? Christian attitude towards life and international relations must gov-

BARON BYNG WILL SPEAK TO STUDENTS

Will Address Canadian Club
at R. V. C.

TUESDAY AT 5 P.M.

Special Address Being Prepared for Occasion.

The sixth and most notable of a very distinguished array of speakers before the Canadian Club of McGill will be General His Excellency the Right Honourable Lord Byng of Vimy, G.C.B., G.C.M.G., M.V.O., Governor-General of Canada and Visitor of McGill University. His Excellency will speak on the ninth of January at five o'clock in the R.V.C. Convocation Hall. It is understood that he is especially preparing an address suited to the students which in the light of his very extensive experience as a soldier and now as a viceroys is bound to prove most interesting. As a leader of men, Lord Byng has few superiors.

The seventh son of the second Earl of Strathford, Julian Hedworth George, first Baron Byng of Vimy and of Thorpe-le-Soken was born on September 11th, 1862. He joined the 10th Royal Hussars in 1883 and rose steadily through an unusual display of courage and initiative. The future general served with distinction in the Sudan Expedition, 1884, including El Teb and Tamai (medal with clasp, Khedive's star). He attained the rank of major in 1898 and made a name for himself in the South African War, 1899-1902, heing mentioned in despatches, securing the Queen's medal with six clasps, the King's medal, and the rank of colonel. From 1902-04 he commanded the 10th Royal Hussars, and the Cavalry School at Netheravon in 1904 and 1905. The then Hon. Julian Byng held the following commands from 1905-12: The 2nd Cavalry Brigade, 1st Cavalry Brigade, and the East Anglian Division. He was promoted to be major-general in 1909.

General Byng served in France at the commencement of the war and later at Gallipoli. In 1916 he succeeded Sir Edwin Alderson in command of the Canadian Army Corps where he achieved signal success, and gained great popularity. The Canadian soldiers were henceforth known as the "Byng Boys".
By this time General Byng held the K.C.B. and M.V.O. The Canadian Corps won world renown at the taking of Vimy Ridge in April, 1917, under the

MISS MONK GIVEN SCHOLARSHIP

Co-ed is Awarded Prize for Province of Quebec

The National War Memorial Committee of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, has made its selection, through the Provincial Board, for the I.O.D.E. Scholarship holder from the Province of Quebec. The candidate selected is Miss Elizabeth Monk, of Montreal, at present qualifying for her degree in the Faculty of Law at McGill University.

The I. O. D. E. War Memorial under which a bursary for a Canadian University is awarded in each Province every year, is open to sons and daughters of deceased or disabled soldiers or sailors or men of the Air Force. The bursary, which has been in operation since 1920, is designed to terminate in 1936, as after that date, there would be no children, within the terms of the endowment, of scholarship age.

The permanent War Memorial, under which Miss Monk's scholarship is given, awards a post-graduate course at some University in the United Kingdom every year. It is open to candidates, men or women, of any Canadian University. Up to the present time, the Order has raised only sufficient funds to send five scholars each year, but it is expected within the full amount has been raised, to increase the number. The full amount, it is stated, is well within sight. The year before last, Miss Allie V. Douglas was sent from Quebec, and proved herself a brilliant scholar. This year is again the turn of Quebec.

The Provincial Board of Selection was composed of Mrs. C. M. de R.
Finnis, of Quebec; Mrs. W. C. Hodgson and Mrs. A. W. McDougall, of Montreal; Dean Adams, of McGill;
Gerald Birks, of Montreal; and Col.
McLennan, of Quebec.

Miss Elizabeth Monk is the only child of Mrs. Alfred Monk, of Tunney Street. She is at present a Law student at McGill, precedent to the degree of B. C. L. Miss Monk received her B.A. degree at McGill in 1919, when she took first class honors in Modern Languages, and was awarded the Governor-General's medal. She received her M.A. Degree from Radcliffe College, Harvard, in 1920. Miss Monk took first class honors at McGill in 1921, and was awarded the Faculty Exhibition for highest standing. Again in 1922, she took first class honors and was awarded the Alexander Morris Exhibition for highest standing, together with the money prize.

Miss Monk has been prominent in the Debating Society, in both French and English. She has been on the reporting staff of the McGill Daily.

There were several candidates from the Province, and the Committee found it difficult to make a selection, as all the candidates were of high standing.

MONTREAL, THURSDAY, JANUARY 4, 1923.

THE NEW YEAR.

The "Daily" extends hearty New Year's greeting to all its readers, with the fervent hope that 1923 will not only bring success in have been silent a fortnight, her representatives did not cease to with the university. Only a short period of nine days remains before the close of the first term lectures, and the commencement of mid-year tests, when students undergo the much heralded and oft-dreaded examinations.

While numbers of students, doubtless, were loath to leave the fireside after the festive season, the majority welcome the return to the Alma Mater, with feelings of renewed affection and respect for Canada's national university. Although McGill's lecture halls have been silent a fortnight, her representatives did not cease to uphold her best traditions. In Toronto, some hundred men and women students took part in the first national conference of Canadian students organized by the Student Christian Movement. The senior hockey team performed excellent work in Boston, Princeton and New Haven, and to-night faces Mount Allison in New York. The basketball five played admirably in Burlington, New York, Philadelphia, and Utica, and returns to-day strengthened for future events. McGill secured second place at the Lake Placid intercollegiate winter sports meet for the President Harding Cup. International fixtures such as these serve a three-fold purpose in cementing the closer the existing ties of friendship between the United States and Canada, enhancing the reputation of McGill, and training the respective aggregations for later home competitions. Those who took part in the Toronto conference and in the games across the line deserve much credit for devoting a large part of the holiday season to such commendable purpose.

The year 1922, with its successes and its failures lies behind us. The hopeful spirit ever prevailing at the dawning of a new year is with us. Despite continued anxiety and distress in this war-torn world, Canada stands to-day perhaps the most peaceful and most prosperous nation. The reputation of McGill stands higher than ever, and will continue to grow providing the students carry on as they should. The New Year, with its countless opportunities is ours.

CONGRATULATIONS.

The student body of McGill University, through the medium of the "Daily," wishes to congratulate Miss Elizabeth Monk, and David M. Johnson, on their recent successes in winning respectively the I.O.D.E. Scholarship for Quebec, and the Rhodes Scholarship. It is a signal honour to McGill that both these scholarships should fall to students of this university. While rejoicing at the success of these two brilliant students, their fellow-students will regret their departure at the close of this year to pursue higher studies in Great Britain.

HISTORICAL EXHIBITION AT LIBRARY

Ancient Letters, Manuscripts and Autographs.

JAN. 4—Mar. 18.

Various Exhibits Loaned by Montrealeers.

One of the finest exhibitions of its nature to be shown on this continent is being opened today at the library. It includes a collection of Papal Bulls from the time of Pope Innocent II to Pope Pius IX, priceless fragments of manuscripts and letters of famous authors and poets, autographs letters and documents by outstanding musicians, scientists, soldiers and politicians. The exhibition will be open to the public until March 18.

Exhibits are of the very front rank of historic and literary interest. There is a part of Southey's "Eclogue" in the poet's fine delicate handwriting, a page of De Quincey's "A Tory's Account of Toryism, Whiggism and Radicalism," a small but precious fragment of Byron, a delightful letter of Carlyle to his publisher, in which he praises the Westminster Review, "one of the few periodicals which I make an effort to see," and in which he goes on to remark, "Now it chances at this time that I can furnish you with a little essay on the Nibelungen Lied calculated for English Readers." This letter is dated February 8, 1831, from his home at Craigeputtock, Dumfries.

OTHER TREASURES.

Other treasures are a letter from Robert Browning to Ruskin, a Swinburne letter and manuscript, the manuscript of Sir Edwin Arnold's "Love Songs In Many Tongues," with the original opposite the translation, a letter by Christina Rossetti, in which she praises the work of her sister and in which she gives an intimate glimpse of her own womanly personality, a manuscript of Mrs. Hemans, "The Wounded Eagle," and a page of the original manuscript of Show's essay on "Cecil Chesterton," in which he remarks: "Cecil Chesterton, like his prodigious brother, is a man to be reckoned with."

Students of science will be thrilled to discover manuscripts by such giants as Herschel Humboldt, Dr. Jenner, one of Huxley's proofs with his own corrections, a letter from James Watt, dealing with the expense of erecting steam engines and reservoirs, letters and manuscripts of Sir Humphry Davy, Charles Darwin, the great Lister, Sir Francis Galton, the famous physiologist; Owen, Faraday and a host of others.

Art students will have a wide selection in the exhibits of Alma Tadema, Sir Joshua Reynolds, Millais, Leighton, Augustus John, Holman Hunt, Walter Crane, Bewick, the great English engraver; Ford Madox Brown and other great names, while lovers of art with a humorous edge will fly to the sketches and letters, often illustrated deliciously around the margin of "Punch" artists.

American book lovers will find special attraction in the cases devoted to Mark Twain, Longfellow, William Cullen Bryant, James Fenimore Cooper, Whittier and other American writers, while literateurs from every land will flock to the exhibits of Victor Hugo, Dumas, Bjornson, D'Annunzio, and Robert Louis Stevenson, the beloved, which include a letter from Stevenson's mother about their life at Vailima.

Churchmen everywhere will be interested in the letters of great clerics, including Dean Farrar Rev. Charles Rad-don Spurgeon, the famous preacher, Cardinal Manning, Cardinal Newman, Dr. Pusey, John Keble and Archbishops of Canterbury, including Randall Thomas Davidson, while those enthralled by travel and exploration will find special delight in exhibits of Burton, Sir John Franklin, Steffansen and Peary, a col-

ADVANCEMENT DURING LAST YEAR SHOWN

McGill Centennial Endowment Fund Report.

$4,520,000 RECEIVED.

Dormitories and Gymnasium Not to be Built Yet.

The following letter has been sent out to all subscribers to the McGill Centennial Endowment Fund by John W. Ross, Esq., LL.D., the Honorary Treasurer.

The passing of 1922 marks the end of an extremely active year for McGill University. During the year now closing, good progress has been made with the building programme, new departments have been established, and several valuable additions to the teaching staff have been made. The "McGill Centennial Endowment Fund" has made this advancement possible, and the University Authorities wish to thank you again for your generosity in subscribing to this Fund. McGill University has, we believe, an excellent teaching staff, whose members are now receiving salaries which permit them to live in comfort. It will be remembered that an endowment to take care of a general increase in their salaries was made the first charge against this Fund.

The other requirements of a real University are books, adequate class rooms, well equipped laboratories, students' dormitories, playing fields and gymnasium. As there has been considerable discussion on the relative importance of these various requirements, you will doubtless be interested to know the purposes to which the Fund has been applied, and the reasons which dictated the expenditures.

The Rockefeller Foundation, in subscribing $1,000,000 to this Fund, did so on the express condition that the University would expend on Medical Buildings $900,000. By completing the Biological Building at a cost of $566,000, and by authorizing contracts for the erection of a Pathological Building at a cost of $350,000 (exclusive of the $100,000 grant from the Royal Victoria Hospital), the University has more than fulfilled her obligation to the Foundation.

For many years the University Library has been overcrowded and cramped for room. It had likewise been starved in the matter of books. Indeed, it was difficult for Professors and students to keep abreast of contemporary scholarship because of the lack of the most recent books in their special subjects. It was, therefore, thought of the first importance to remedy at once this very serious defect in the University's equipment. An addition to the Library has been made with accommodation for 300,000 volumes, and the annual appropriation for books has been increased by about $15,000. This very necessary lection of whose manuscripts relating to the discovery of the North Pole will be on view. A case is also given over entirely to great French naturalists.

Cases relating to modern writers and critics are of surprising interest, but perhaps the most interesting of all in the case devoted to great women writers. There are shown manuscripts of Maria Edgeworth, Miss Mitford, Harriet Martineau, Hannah Moore, a letter from Mrs. Thral, Samuel Johnson's friend, a manuscript of the great Elizabeth Barrett Browning and other treasures. Placed in a prominent position, it is expected to be one of the most visited spots.

Dr. Johnson, Richard Steele, Colley Cibber, Sheridan Sterne General Gordon General Grant and Horatio Nelson are some of the names which will flash upon the visitor as he moves along the row of exhibits.

A number of cases are devoted to books on manuscripts and the writing of manuscripts, collections of facsimiles, from the British Museum, and writing materials used from the earliest times, including Babylonian clay tablets, papyrus, palm leaf and Indian birch bark books. There are cases also of Egyptian and Persian manuscripts, including four leaves of the Oxyrhynchus Papyrus donated by the Egyptian Exploration Society, a book belonging to the Samaritan High Priest and XII century Persian manuscripts and a case of 16th to 18th century manuscripts, loaned by Dr. Francis McLennan.

An exhibit of local interest is a case of copies of 12th century illuminated manuscripts, the work of Mrs. Traquair, mother of Professor Ramsay Traquair, of McGill University.

Of historic interest are cases of seals and signatures of kings and queens and a case of relics of the Duke of Wellington, including two pairs of eye glasses, the clock and the swag stick, the Iron Duke carried with him in all his campaigns, a handkerchief and stock, his engagement book a lock of his hair, and even a piece of his eyebrow, all loaned by Mrs. Durnford, of Montreal.

Others who have loaned exhibits are Lady Strathcona, Sir Thomas and Lady Roddick, F. Cleveland Morban, Morris Gest, Mrs. J. B. Learmont, Dr. Francis McLennan, Gordon MacDougall, K.C., and Miss Carruthers.

improvement enables the Library adequately to store the books in its keeping; it permits students to carry on Graduate work in the Graduate School without which the University would lag behind its sister institutions; it increases the efficiency of the Travelling Libraries; and it provides facilities for Professors and students to do research work in their special fields, a condition so vitally necessary for the advancement of learning and without which no University can achieve distinction or fulfill the purpose of its Founders.

The students in Dentistry had heretofore no laboratory for their practical work. This was an impossible situation and the University, therefore, made arrangements with the Montreal General Hospital for the erection of a building for Dental Clinics. The result is that, in the opinion of the Carnegie Foundation, the course we are now offering in Dentistry is one of the best on the Continent.

The following figures show how the University has applied all the money it has received on account of this Fund up to the present time:

Amount subscribed to Fund $6,440,000
 Amount outstanding . . . 1,920,000
 Amount Received . . . $4,520,000

Expenditures.
 Endowment for salaries, equipment, etc. . . . $3,000,000
 Biological Building . . . 566,000
 Extension to the University Library . . . 134,000
 Building for Dental Clinics . . . 40,000
 Endowment for maintenance of these buildings . . . 430,000
 Contracts have been let for the erection of the Pathological Building at a cost of (exclusive of the $100,000 provided by the Royal Victoria Hospital) . . . 350,000

When the balance of this Fund, viz., $1,920,000, has been received, we will proceed with our building programme and with the further equipment of the University Departments.

The completion of the original building programme would mean the erection of a Gymnasium and Dormitory Building, a new Engineering Building and a new Arts Building, which (with an endowment for their maintenance) would involve an expenditure of about $2,000,000. This building work will, as far as possible, be undertaken, but it must be remembered that there are other pressing demands on the finances of the University to be considered.

The figures given above show how vital it is to the interests of the University that the balance of this Fund should be available at the very earliest possible date.

McGill University, as you are aware, is not a state institution. It is dependent solely on private contributions and on the generosity of its friends. It was founded by a wealthy citizen of Montreal, a business man who combined a shrewd practicality with a high idealism, and who believed in sane and sound education as a vital influence in the national life. The friends of McGill University who contributed with you to the "Centennial Endowment Fund" have carried forward the Torch the Founder lighted over one hundred years ago, and the University realizes that without the aid you so generously gave, the Torch would be dimmed, if not extinguished.

The University thanks you most cordially for your encouragement, for your generous contribution, for the prompt manner in which you have paid the former instalments of your subscription and trusts that you will find it convenient to meet with similar readiness the payment which falls due at the beginning of next month.

Yours very truly,
 JOHN W. ROSS,
 Honorary Treasurer.

MECHANICAL CLUB AT ANGUS SHOP

About Thirty-five Students Take Trip.

On the last Wednesday afternoon before the Christmas holidays about thirty-five members of the Mechanical Club visited the Canadian Pacific Railway Angus Shops, which are among the finest shops of their kind in the world. On arriving at the main office the visitors were divided into two parties, so as not to congest the shops, and conducted around by guides, who willingly explained each process in a most satisfactory manner. As there were some eight miles of buildings to visit there was not sufficient time for the visitors to follow the work of each department in detail; but as a whole the trip was an interesting and very instructive one.

The success of this visit was largely due to the Department of Mechanical Engineering who granted attendance at shop-work to the third year students taking advantage of this trip.

FELLOWSHIP ENDOWMENT FOR MCGILL

Graduate Study in Trade and Commerce.

TO RAISE $14,000.

Subscribed by Members of Can. Man. Assoc.

A New Year's gift of $14,000 for McGill University is the project that is under way by the Montreal Branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association. This is not to be a cash donation to the University itself, but a subscription of that amount for the permanent endowment of a three years' graduate Fellowship in Economics, Trade and Commerce. It is not to be a direct endowment from the Montreal Branch of the C.M.A., but an endowment raised by direct subscriptions of its members.

This Fellowship is being established at the instigation of Professor Stephen Leacock. In suggesting that the Graduate Fellowship be endowed by the Montreal Manufacturers for the purposes stated above, Professor Leacock emphasized the fact that while McGill stands in the first rank in undergraduate work, men to-day are obliged to go to the American university to obtain the benefits of post-graduate training in Economics, Trade and Commerce.

It was proposed at first that the fund be raised by the Montreal Branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association. However, as the Canadian Manufacturers' Association does not undertake matters of this nature, it was decided to handle the matter through the Association, the money being raised by individual subscription of the members.

A special committee, consisting of Messrs. Julian C. Smith, Fred. W. Stewart and F. R. Whittall, was appointed to take the matter up and raise the necessary fund. This committee has been working for some time past in co-operation with Prof. Stephen Leacock and as a result of their work a circular letter has been sent to the members of the Montreal Branch, laying the whole matter before them.

The response to this letter has been very satisfactory. Subscriptions have been coming in steadily and the total sum has nearly all been received.

HIS SUMMER GIRL.

We walked together down the lane
 And talked in accents low;
 I slowly lead the winding path
 Where we alone should go.

At last we came to a rustic gate,
 She heaved a ponderous sigh;
 I turned and opened wide the gap—
 Alas! she passed me by.

I loved her, yes, I loved her,
 But I could not tell her how,
 For I was but a farmer lad
 And she—a Jersey cow.

MILITARY SURVEY OF MOUNT-ROYAL

Plans to Withstand Siege Made by C.O.T.C.

On the afternoon of December 27th, a small squad of C.O.T.C. men, under Captain Howard, undertook a military survey of Mount Royal. Plans for protecting the city against a possible attack by an enemy body were made, it being decided that the city was admirably situated from the protectors' point of view, its geographical position rendering it very difficult of attack.

The party approached the mountain from Pine Avenue, stopping at points along the road, and discussing various means of protecting them. On reaching the Lookout, a thorough survey of the country immediately surrounding Montreal was made. It was unanimously decided that any attack that might be made on the city would come from the level country on the South Shore, rather than from the river, as aeroplanes would easily do away with any ships which attempted to land men.

From the Lookout, the party proceeded to the Park Slide. Here, Capt. Howard divided the squad into two groups. To one of these groups was assigned the task of working out a plan of attack against that particular part of the mountain, while the second group was to establish an outpost against an attack from the west, the main body being situated along the road passing at right angles to the Park Slide.

A fairly feasible plan was worked out by the attack group, although on account of the lie of the land in the part chosen, it was difficult for the second division to settle on a spot to place their outpost.

During the course of the afternoon, Capt. Howard gave the men instruction in the determination of distances,

TEAM SHOWS UP WELL IN BASKETBALL

Christmas Vacation Tour Great Success.

CLOSE SCORES.

Players Prepare for Intercollegiate Games

(Special to McGill Daily)

Utica, N.Y., January 3, 1922.—McGill's basketball squad lost the last game of the Christmas jaunt schedule by the close score of 29 to 28 to the Utica Knights of Columbus quintette tonight. The game was a hard fought battle and the visitors were within striking distance of a victory throughout the full time of the contest.

Manson, the rugby forward of the Red and White squad was playing at his best and sent the pigskin into the basket quite regularly during the contest. To the spectators, the game presented all the aspects of a battle between well matched aggregations and the home squad was fortunate in having the final whistle sound before the scoring of an additional basket by their opponents, which would have meant the game.

The McGill basketball team ended their Christmas tour in the United States with a record of one win and three defeats. Considering the standing of the different teams they met this is no record to be ashamed of, especially in view of the fact that every game was hard fought up to the last minute of play, with the red and white aggregation playing at a disadvantage under a much stricter code of rules than they are accustomed to at home. Their win over the strong Crescent Athletic Club team in New York was the result of a superb rally in the closing minutes of the game, when McGill came from behind after facing almost certain defeat, to win by a small but decisive margin. The three teams that defeated them were in each case topnotch aggregations with a long record of unbroken victories to look back to, so it is not surprising that McGill lost to them in home games.

The first game for the McGill team was with St. Francis College, Dec. 29, in New York, and ended with a severe defeat for the Red and White team. Unable to penetrate the defence and poor shooting were the fundamental causes for the defeat, while the home team displayed no lack of talent, scoring steadily throughout the game. The local team has a reputation as being one of the most powerful teams in its class around New York and were able to give some remarkable exhibitions of basketball during the play.

At the start of the game the home team got the jump on Manson, and with a series of short passes worked the ball under the basket to score. Fouls were called strictly but the teams did not suffer much either way from this source. Amarion was the star on the McGill team, scoring ten points from the floor, Keating, of the Brooklyn team, being the high scorer with twelve points from baskets and four more on free tries.

Time after time in the first period the McGill team missed tries from the floor but these were for the most part long shots resulting from the defence that the opposition had to offer. Without doubt the team will become more accustomed to this style of play and should show up better in the following games.

Mendelsohn played a steady game but failed to give his usual clever exhibition of scoring. Manson was the most conspicuous man on the floor and played in top form, fighting to the last minute to give more points to the visiting team. Crain, although busy on the defence, managed to break through to score on several occasions. Blumenthal also scored on a pretty shot in the last period. Little and Hilton, two regulars, were absent from the line-up. The train due at 7.30 a.m., arrived at 3.00 p.m.

The line-up follows:

McGill. St. Francis.

Amarion.....forward.....Keating

Mendelsohn.....forward.....Moran

Manson (cpt.).....centre.....Lynch

Crain.....defence.....Morgan

Blumenthal.....defence.....Twohy (cpt.)

Turner.....spare.....Milde

Connor.....spare.....Renny

Baskets: Keating 6, Amarion 5, Moran 4, Twohy 3, Crain 2, Mendelsohn, Blumenthal, Lynch.

Free tries: Keating, 4 out of 4; Twohy, 11 out of 13; Manson, 9 out of 14. Referee: Mehan.

The second game was with Crescent A. C. in New York, on Dec. 30. Staging one of the most spectacular comebacks seen for some time the Red and White basketball team tore through the well-known Crescent A.C. team in the last two minutes of play to a three point victory. With Little in the line-up and Amarion on the defence the team worked like a clock, using no substitutes and taking no time out. Time and again the home team tried to break through the heavy McGill opposition but the Montreal team held.

In the first period it was all Red and White. Manson was always there on the jump and the men were on the ball

HOCKEY TEAM WINS TWICE IN BOSTON

Lost to Boston College in Initial Contest.

FLANAGAN TALLIES.

Red and White Scores 15 Goals to 7 for Opponents

With a record of victories over the Boston Hockey Club and the Victorias, and the lone reverse at the hands of the Boston College sextette, in which the McGill skaters amassed a total of 15 points as against 7 for their opponents, the three day trip to Boston may be considered a success.

With the exception of the initial contest, the local puck chasers showed splendid form, such as would give promise of their proving serious contenders for the intercollegiate crown.

On the 23th McGill was opposed by the Boston College six, whom the Red and White easily blanked last year to the tune of 3-0. The Bostonians were in the pink of condition, were excellently coached, and displayed a fine brand of teamwork, while the visitors, playing their first game, and after a long trip, were hardly at top form. Hughes, the B.C. right wing, did all the scoring for the victors, tallying no less than three times, while "Pinkey" Morrison, the Red and White centre, accounted for McGill's lone point, in the first period. In this contest "Shorty" Lynch was unfortunately lost to the team. He received a cut over the eye, and it was necessary to have four stitches to close the wound.

In the second game, the Canadians showed a marked improvement in form, and experienced little difficulty in vanquishing the Boston Hockey Club, in a one-sided 5 to 1 contest. Flanagan rose to great heights, and scored four of his team's five goals. Bell, who substituted on the wing line, registered the other counter for the victors. While Bigelow, a former Harvard star, was the only one of the losers who succeeded in getting the disk past Morris, who performed brilliantly in front of the net. The feature of the game came at the opening of the third period, when Flanagan took the puck at the face-off, nonchalantly skated down the ice, and tallied 11 seconds after the opening of the period.

The third encounter was with the Victorias of Boston, and for two periods proved a nip and tuck battle, but in the final session, with the score tied at 3 all Flanagan broke loose, scored a trio of goals in quick succession, and left no doubt as to the outcome. The final score was 9 to 3 in favor of McGill. Flanagan alone scored five times, and assisted Bell on a pair of tallies.

The series was viewed with great interest by hockey fans in Boston, the final game drawing a crowd estimated at about 8,000. A large number of McGill graduates living in the vicinity of the Hub City were on hand to cheer the representatives of their Alma Mater, and the games possessed all the colour that generally attends an international athletic contest.

The injury to Lynch at first appeared only slight, but Jack developed a fever and was obliged to remain at a Boston Hospital, where his condition, though at first quite critical, is now reported to be somewhat improved.

The outstanding features of the trip were the magnificent performances by Captain Cyril Flanagan, and the remarkable showing of "Pinkey" Morrison, the Coast flash, who has been out of the game for several years. "Flin" showed a classy style of stick-handling, and great bursts of speed, while Morrison is improving with every contest, and before the season has advanced much further, should be one of the outstanding performers in intercollegiate hockey.

Morris, a new comer in goals, proved a find. In the opening game he did not appear to be quite at ease, but after that he settled down and gave a truly brilliant performance.

Dempsey and McGerrigle played McNaughton and Bell gave good ex-hibitions on the defence, while hibiptions on the wing line.

MEDICINE AND ARTS TIED IN XMAS HOCKEY

New Holiday Scheme Proves Popular.

MANY TURN OUT.

Play-off Saturday at 3.15, on Rink in Hollow.

The final games of the inter-faculty Christmas Holiday Hockey League were played on the Campus rinks yesterday.

Meds. defeated Sci. 11 3-0. Sci. I. defeated Commerce by default, although in a ragged, one period session, a picked-up team with four Commerce men on it, defeated the Science aggregation 2-1.

In the final game Arts were victorious over Dents by a score of 7-1. The result of these games left Arts and Meds. tied for the championship, the final standing of the league being as follows:

	W.	L.	D.	Pts.
Arts	3	0	2
Med.	4	1	0
Com.	2	2	1
Sci. I.	2	2	1
Sci. II.	1	4	0
Dent.	1	4	0

The play-off for the championship will take place on the Hollow Rink on Saturday, Jan. 6th, 3.15 to 4.15 p.m. Only men who have played during the Christmas Holidays are eligible to take part in the final game.

The league has proved an unqualified success, and keen competition and great enthusiasm have been evinced from the start. Despite the adverse weather conditions encountered, only three games were defaulted out of the fifteen games scheduled. Rain, snow, and zero weather, failed to curb the enthusiasm of the players. Even the terrific effects of Christmas and New Years dinners, etc., did not lessen the craving for hockey, and the scheduled games were played, albeit under difficulty.

Arts and Meds., in gaining the top, showed a splendid brand of hockey. Meds. only defeat was administered by Arts in a closely fought game, the final whistle finding the score 3-2. Arts went through their heavy schedule of five games without a defeat, being held to the scores of 1-1 by Commerce, in their first game, and by Sci. I, last Saturday.

Everything points to an exciting game on Saturday. Meds. and Arts have very well balanced teams, and the rivalry is very keen.

INTERCOLLEGIATE HOCKEY SUGGESTED

Would Likely Include Eight Colleges.

A group of American colleges, including Harvard, Yale, Princeton and Dartmouth, have come forward with a suggestion that an international intercollegiate hockey league be formed next year, according to reports. Tentative outlines for the proposed league would include Toronto, Queen's and McGill in the league with the four American colleges, but it is likely that the advent of the University of Montreal to the Canadian Intercollegiate League has not been announced across the border or that college would have been included also.

The amazing strides that Canada's national game has taken in the favour of the American colleges has led to the appearance of some strong teams across the border. The only too apparent advantage of hockey as a stimulating game as compared to basketball for the winter months has gradually placed the ice game in a favourable position. The recent competition of the Hobart Baker Memorial rink at Princeton, with an artificial ice plant, has given hockey a big boom in that town, while Yale is fortunate in having the new New Haven Arena at their disposal. Harvard in its proximity to Boston, has always had plenty of opportunity for good hockey, as the Hub city has been the cradle of hockey interest in the United States.

It is likely that a league such as that proposed by the American colleges would meet with favour here. The small number of teams on the Canadian loop has always been a drawback to the teams here as they do not have sufficient games to give the teams enough work. An eight-team league would be rather heavy and it is possible that some kind of a double schedule would have to be arranged with a play-off at the end of the year. The formation of the international league would probably mean that college teams would have to drop out of the Allan Cup eliminations but that will probably have to be done in any case under the present system, whereby the games are played in the East and West in alternate years and long journeys are necessary.

If anything is done in connection with the proposed league it is likely that it will come up for consideration in the near future. Games between the teams of the two countries have been in the nature of early season exhibition contests

SCHEDULE FOR JUNIOR HOCKEY

McGill Juniors First Game on January 6th.

The schedule for the Junior Hockey League was published during the holidays and the McGill team will soon be in action. Last year they were in the play-off with Lower Canada and displayed throughout the year a fast brand of hockey.

The following is the schedule of the Junior Amateur Hockey Association:

December 30—Wellington vs. M. A. A. A.; Westmount vs. St. Gabriel; Victoria vs. National.

January 6—Loyola vs. M.A.A.A.; McGill vs. National; Wellington vs. Victoria.

January 13—National vs. Loyola; McGill vs. Westmount; Wellington vs. St. Gabriel.

January 20—Victoria vs. McGill; Loyola vs. Westmount; M.A.A.A. vs. St. Gabriel.

January 27—National vs. Wellington; Loyola vs. McGill; Victoria vs. M. A. A. A.

February 3—Loyola vs. St. Gabriel; Wellington vs. McGill; Westmount vs. National.

February 10—Westmount vs. M. A. A. A.; St. Gabriel vs. McGill; Loyola vs. Victoria.

February 14—St. Gabriel vs. Victoria; M.A.A.A. vs. National; Westmount vs. Wellington.

February 24—Loyola vs. Wellington; McGill vs. M.A.A.A.; National vs. St. Gabriel; Westmount vs. Victoria.

BANQUET WAS GIVEN TO THE TRACK CLUB

On December 19th an informal dinner was given for the Track Club in the Union. All the members of this year's intercollegiate championship team were present. It has been the custom to have a dinner for the major sport team that wins the title of intercollegiate champions. The toastmaster was "Dave" Johnson, the winner of the quarter mile this year, and of many other events in the past. Dr. Lamb was present and drew attention to the fact that for the second consecutive time the Rhodes Scholar for Quebec has been a member of the Track Club. Dr. Sullivan, Dr. MacMillan, Coach Van Wagner and J. L. O'Brien were among the guests.

In the past and the interest was lacking owing to the fact that the players had not reached their mid-season form. The new plan would bring the teams of the Canadian and United States colleges together when they are at their best and would be a real test of strength.

McGILL TOOK SECOND IN WINTER MEET

Dartmouth Wins President Harding Trophy.

WELL CONTESTED.

Seven Colleges Compete for Winter Sports Prize.

The President Harding Trophy went to Dartmouth College when they defeated McGill by a narrow margin at the Winter Sports Competition held under the auspices of the Snow Birds of Lake Placid Club, last week-end. Seven colleges took part in the meet, namely, Dartmouth, McGill, Middlebury, University of Vermont, New Hampshire State University, Yale, and the University of Wisconsin. Dartmouth won the meet with 25 points, McGill took second place with 17 points, and Middlebury was third with 8 points, tied with Yale, which also had 8 points.

The Red and White might perhaps have made a better showing were they not handicapped by having no regular entries in the skating races. The hockey trip about the same date took several good prospects to Boston, and the few other good men who were left could not find time to make the trip. However, some well known skiers essayed to try their hand at speed skating, and though unsuccessful in winning a place, succeeded in outdistancing some of the regulars.

The three-mile snowshoe race on Friday afternoon proved rather trying to the competitors, for most of the men took the wrong turning, and followed the eight-mile ski course instead of the snowshoe trail of a little under three miles. After reeling off about six miles at top speed, the racers began to realize that something was amiss, but were afraid to halt, as the award of the trophy depended on the result of this race, and so all finished the long grind with a final sprint. Nevertheless their efforts counted for nothing as the committee decided to run the race over the next morning, after giving the runners a little time to recover.

A list of events and the respective winners follows:

Friday, December 29th:—

Skating race, one-quarter mile, won by Boost, Vermont; Hennessy, Dartmouth, second.

Skating race, one mile, won by Hennessy of Dartmouth, with Boost of Vermont, second.

Ski cross country race, eight miles, won by Foursets, of Yale; Stefansson,

NO WORD RECEIVED.

At the time of going to press last night, no word had been received of the hockey games with Princeton University on Tuesday, and with the New Haven Hockey Club last night. The final game takes place in New York to-night, with Mount Allison.

of Yale, was second, and Michelson, of New Hampshire, third.

Snowshoe dash, 100 yards, won by Duncan Anderson, of McGill, in 13 seconds; Forbush, of Dartmouth, was second, and Blake, Dartmouth, third.

Ski dash, 100 yards, won by Bowler, of Dartmouth; second and third places also taken by Dartmouth entries.

Ski proficiency, won by Ralph Whittall, McGill; with Gravel, of McGill, second, and Michelson, of New Hampshire, third.

Snowshoe cross-country race, three miles, won by Blake, of Dartmouth; Anderson, of McGill was second, and Grimsen, of McGill, third.

Saturday, December 30:—

Ski jumping, special competition for the Marshal Foch Trophy, won by G. Michelson of New Hampshire with Gravel, McGill, second, and Maxwell, Dartmouth third. Maxwell made the longest jump of 122 feet, but lost on style.

The National Trade-mark

OLD silversmiths, in order to help people tell pure silver from cheaper imitations, marked the real thing "sterling."

In a like manner, manufacturers, who stand back of their wares, identify them with trade-marks that are your guarantee of quality. By advertising these trade-marks, they focus on their products the searchlight of attention.

Only good goods,, fairly priced, can flourish in this light of publicity. For no merchandise and no business can thrive under the weight of public condemnation.

That is why a manufacturer, or a merchant, places the whole reputation of his business at stake every time he advertises. His goods must be as advertised.

So, in looking through this paper remember this: the man who spends his money to invite your consideration of his wares, backs up his belief in his goods and leaves the final decision to you.

It pays you to read the advertisements. It pays you to buy advertised products.

Advertising is your protection

fast. They caught on to the type of play and were able to make a tally at every opportunity. The game was not so strictly handled as those in the past American series so that the teams were able to play the game as they were used to it. Mendelsohn was in his best form, rolling the ball in time after time after working down the floor. Amaron was perhaps the most noticeable man on the floor dribbling down to score on several occasions. This man was moved back from the forward line and before the completion of the season will make a name for himself at the new position. He and Crain were the cause of all the worries of the older club, who could not get the ball past them.

In the second period the Crescent team came on the floor to win. They scored but Mendelsohn retaliated, tossing a pretty basket. Again they scored and with but three minutes to play they tore through to a five point lead. Manson then sent two free tries spinning into the iron ring. Then with the spirit that brought them in to the championship last year the players gave a demonstration of passing that could not be stopped and despite the entreaties of the gallery to prevent the shooting the men scored. The defence came up the floor and Amaron scored, then Mendelsohn put the ball in. Little started up the floor and the whistle blew and for the second time, out of nine starts the Crescent team were defeated.

The game was played quite free from penalties and although McGill was the worst offender the fact that no men were sent to the bench and that McGill was not accustomed to the type of play must be remembered. The Red and White team worked in remarkable unison, playing a fast clean game. Captain Manson dominated the opposition and the jump went time after time to the tall centre. Crain, in his defensive position, scored twice, while Amaron doubled up to score four times. The shooting of Mendelsohn swept the gallery off their feet, as again and again the ball went true for the ring. The game was fast and although Crescents took the limit in time outs, McGill playing only five men, played through without requesting a halt.

The line-up:
McGill Univ. (35)—Crescent A.C. (32)
Little.....R.F.Barker
Mendelsohn.....L.F.Parmele
Manson.....C.Jones
Amaron.....R.G.Sim
Crain.....L.G.Greffin
Field goals—McGill: Mendelsohn (6), Amaron (4), Manson (3), Crain (2).
Crescent A.C.: Barker (5), Jones (3), Barkelew (2), Nickles (2).
Sim.
Free throws—Manson (3), Barker (6).

In the third game, University of Pennsylvania twice defeated in five years, added another great victory to their record, when they sent the McGill team down to defeat. The McGill squad held their own for play after play and until the last five minutes the outcome was dubious but towards the end the Canadian team were unable to prevent the clever shooting of Penn from hitting the nets.

Pennsylvania has the reputation of producing powerful teams each year and although lacking weight the home team were deadly shots, while McGill was unable to net many easy tries.

Little, on the forward line, was unable to get the ball into the ring, although time after time he sent the ball into the ring to have it roll out. On the defensive, this player fooled the opposition time and again with his clever one-armed trick of holding the ball. Amaron and Manson were the most conspicuous men on the floor. Manson towered above the rest of the players and displayed talent in all the departments of the game. Mendelsohn scored twice on difficult shots. He played a steady game but found difficulty in shooting. Crain, on the defence, held well throughout the contest. Turpel went into the game and although not having played for a week, he scored almost at once.

McGill.....13 9-22

The first game an exhibition contest not in the schedule played in the States, went to the University of Vermont with the score of 43 to 21 against the Red and White team. The difficulty that the Montreal team met with was the strict interpretation of the rules which cause the style of play to be quite different than that which is met in the local games. The Vermont players were fast on their feet and time after time rushed down the floor, dribbled and pivoted through the defence to score. The fast type of play took the Red and White team off their feet and coupled with the score from free throws sent them down to the low end of the score. The Burlington team scored fifteen points on free throws against the five scored by the Red and White.

A crowd of 1,400 turned out to root for the home team, showing as much enthusiasm as seen at the rugby games. McGill. Vermont.

Annual Board is considering several novel suggestions, and will soon decide whether they are to materialize into unique features to embellish "Old McGill". While nothing definite has yet been done regarding cartoons, it is safe to say that the Annual Board members and other characters of note in and around the university will not be omitted.

The athletic section is being compiled by Ross Wilson, Commerce '24, lately appointed Athletics Editor and will include some thirty pages. This will be one of the most popular features of the book as in previous years, the complaint has often been heard that insufficient space was devoted to sports. Each and every phase of athletics will find a place in this section. The Athletics Editor has many excellent cuts, portraying the various sports events, and numerous interesting articles.

The Annual Board wishes to impress upon the students of McGill the necessity of carrying out the notices appearing from time to time in these columns. The most important object at present is to secure the balance of the organization write-ups. These must be sent at once to H. C. Alward, Biography Editor, at the Union, or handed to a junior year representative on the Board.

ern our actions—and apart from that, I see no hope for the world. That carries with it the fundamental unity of all nations."

The McGill delegates are now returning, and by to-morrow more detailed accounts of the conference will be available for publication.

Among the larger delegations were the following: Toronto delegates from McMaster, Trinity and St. Hilda's, National Training School, Toronto General Hospital Nurses, Dentistry, Medicine, School of Practical Science, Social Service of Practical Science, Social Service, College of Education, University College and Victoria College; delegates from Manitoba, McGill, Alberta, Dalhousie, Western Ontario Agricultural College, Queen's, Saskatchewan, British Columbia (the youngest university in Canada), King's College (the oldest university in Canada), University of New Brunswick, Hamilton General Hospital, Mt. Allison and Prince of Wales.

command of Sir Julian Byng, the general afterwards taking his title from the famous battleground. Later in that memorable year he was placed in command of the Third Army being succeeded as G.O.C. of the Canadian Army Corps by General Sir Arthur William Currie, now Principal of McGill University. In October the Third Army captured the City of Cambrai, Sir Julian Byng receiving the rank of full general in recognition. He took a prominent part in the final defeat of the German armies in the smashing of the Hindenburg line in the summer and autumn of 1918.

For his great services in the field General Byng received a peerage, and a grant of £30,000, choosing as his title Lord Byng of Vimy, and of Thorpe-le-Soken, his home in Essex. In the spring of 1921 Lord Byng was appointed the successor of His Excellency the Duke of Devonshire as Governor-General of Canada and he was greeted with much enthusiasm at Quebec on August 11th. His appointment was extremely popular, and although he had been in the Dominion only a year he has won an honored place in the hearts of Canadians. Lady Byng was formerly Miss Mary Evelyn Moreton, daughter of Sir Richard Moreton, K.C.V.O., and is an authoress of distinction. Her Ladyship is noted for her wit and charm of manner. Lord and Lady Byng were married in 1902.

INTER-FACULTY ASSAULT-AT-ARMS

Winners Decided in Boxing and Wrestling Before Holidays.

On Saturday, Dec. 16, the elimination bouts were held in the inter-faculty assault-at-arms, and some interesting boxing and wrestling was seen. The programme was under the guidance of Boxing Instructor Ernie Robinson and Wrestling Instructor George Smith, and the semi-final results were:

BOXING.
118 lbs.—Brodie, Medicine, defeated Seale, Commerce; Rapkins, Arts, defeated Wilson, Science.
128 lbs.—Snow, Medicine, defeated Lister, Science.
135 lbs.—Armstrong, Medicine, defeated Hamblly, Arts.
145 lbs.—Rankin, Medicine, defeated Montgomery, Commerce.

158 lbs.—Bright, Commerce, defeated McKinnon, Medicine.

WRESTLING.

125 lbs.—McEvoy, Medicine, defeated Gallery, Commerce.
135 lbs.—Howes, Science, defeated Racial, Arts.
145 lbs.—Cotman, Commerce, defeated Ross, Science; McNaughton, Medicine, defeated McNaughton, Arts.
158 lbs.—Adams, Medicine, defeated Gilmour, Science.

Two days later, Dec. 18th, the finals were decided before a large and appreciative audience, composed principally of undergraduates. The boxing was fast and clean, and the competitors showed a willingness to mix. Only one knockout took place, and that was when "Jed" Merritt sent Armstrong down for the count in the third round. Pitt and Caron gave a hard hitting display, while Snow and Fullerton provided a thrilling semi-windup.

Among the wrestlers Coach George Smith marshalled into the ring a much stronger contingent of novice matmen than has appeared in the inter-faculty card for some years. McEvay, Medicine, in defeating Dufréne, of Science, and Adams, Medicine, in winning from Vineberg, Arts, provided the most finished performances. That old-time rivalry between Rumble and Freedman, the red and white's two heavyweight grapplers, was renewed. Rumble failed to make the 175 lb. weight, so Freedman agreed to grapple with him as a heavyweight, losing the bout.

The McGill Mandolin Club provided a pleasing musical diversion between the bouts. Principal Sir Arthur Currie presented the various winners with diplomas and incidentally made reference to the splendid achievement of McGill's star track athlete, Dave Johnson, in being selected as Rhodes Scholar.

The results were:

BOXING.

118 lbs.—Brodie, Medicine, defeated Rapkins, Arts.
125 lbs.—Snow, Medicine, won by default from Adams, Arts.
135 lbs.—Merritt, Science, defeated Armstrong, Medicine, knockout.
145 lbs.—Champion, Science, defeated Rankin, Medicine.
158 lbs.—Marshall, Science, defeated

McKinnon, Medicine.
175 lbs.—Martineau, Arts, defeated McLean, Medicine.
Exhibition—Pitt, Science, vs. Caron, Medicine.
Exhibition—Snow, Medicine, vs. Fullerton, Medicine.

WRESTLING.

118 lbs.—Macdonald, Medicine, defeated Archibald, Commerce.
125 lbs.—McEvoy, Medicine, defeated Dufréne, Science.
135 lbs.—Clement, Medicine, defeated Howes, Science.
145 lbs.—McNaughton, Medicine, defeated Cotman, Commerce.
158 lbs.—Adams, Medicine, defeated Vineberg, Arts.
Heavyweight—Rumble, Science, defeated Freedman, Arts.

Prof. Graves—"Can you shave me with my collar on?"
Barber—"Yes, and I can cut your hair with your hat on."

Warden: Who do you wanta see?
Old Lady: I'd like to see convict No. 666 if he's in.
